Eve dwelt upon thy touching lay With deep and sadden'd thought; For truthfully didst thou portray The change that time hath wrought.

And wouldest thou know why hangs my lyre
Upon the willow bough?
Why pale and dim—poetic fire,
Sends forth no brightness now?

I'll tell thee that the flow'ry fields, Where Fancy loved to roam, Naught now but wither'd blossoms yields To deck her ruined home!

There was a time when all was bloom, Rich, rosy, soft and bright; But care hath plac'd within her loom, No silv'ry threads of light.

Ask of my furrow'd brow the tale—
Ask of my whitening hair;
Or gently rules the soul's dark veil,
That hidds cornoding care.

The golden web that Fancy wove, Time's ruthless wing hath crush'd; And strains that would to gladness move, Are now forever hush'd.

Spring's genial breath anfolds the rose,
That droop'd in wintry hours;
And summer twilight yields repose
When too the heart o'erpow'rs.
But autumn's sombre tints alone
My fature life surround;
The music of my hard hath flown—
With thee its home is found.

Then take my harp—I'll climb no more
Parnassus' flow'ry height;
Or Fancy's wing sublimely soar
And catch immortal light! C. M. C.

THE BREMEN WINE-CELLAR. - The following account is now going the round of the German papers:

"The municipal wine vault of Bremen is the most celebrated in all Germany. One section called the Rose, the bronze bas-relief of roses over it, contains the famous Rosenwein, which is now two centuries and a half old. There, six large casks of Rhine wine, Johannisberg, and as many of Hocheimer, were placed in 1621. In the adjacent parts, the same division of the cellar, are twelve large casks, bearing the name of the Apostles, and containing wines not less precious, but which are not so aged by a few years. The other parts of the cellar are occupied with wines of a subsequent growth. By degrees, as a few bottles of Rosenwein are drawn off, the casks are filled up with Apos-tle wine, and that with some sort still youngest and go can in such a manner that the different backs are always very nearly full. A single bottle of Rosenwein now represents an immense value. A cask of wine, containing 1,000 bottles, cost, in 1624, 1,250f. Calculating that sum at compound interest, with the expense of cellarage, a bottle would positively cost 10,835,-232f.; a glass, or eighth part of a bottle, about 1,361,904f. The Rosenwein and Apostle wine are never sold but to citizens of Bremen. The burgomasters alone have permission to draw a few bottles, and to send them as presents to sovereigns. A citizen of Bremen may, in case of serious illness, procure a bottle at 20f., on his obtaining the certificate of his doctor, and the consent of the municipal council. A poor inhabitant of Bremen may also obtain a bottle gratis, after having fulfilled certain formalities. A citizen has also the right of de-A citizen has also the right of demanding a bottle when he receives any celebrated personage at his house as a guest."

A humorous professor in St. Andrew's used to relate the following anecdote at his own expense: When minister of a country parish, he had the misfortune to lose a number of his teeth, and he had become apprehensive lest he should be deprived of the others. While he was preaching one Sabbath, he observed the precentor scratch his head, a circumstance which led him to fear that another emancipated tooth had fallen upon the pate of that functionary. His dinner in the afternoon consisted of sheep's head and trotters, boiled in broth. Of the broth he had tasted only a few spoonfuls, when her dis-covered two teeth in his plate. "Tully satisfied now," said the professor, "that I had been spitting teeth, I despatched John for the medical He lived four miles off; but John representing the case as urgent, the doctor was at the Manse in a few hours." "Can you fasten teeth, doctor?" I said to the physician, "for mine are falling our in pairs." "Show me any you have lost," said the physician. I immediately unfolded, from a bit of soft paper, the teeth which I had found in my plate, and begged to be informed whether they could be restored to the jaw. These are sheep's teeth," said the doctor. I was freed from all further uneasiness, concluded the professor.

It is said a human body has twenty-eight miles of drainage through its seven million pores. That isn't enough to cleanse some we have seen.

THE UNCHANGEABLE LAND. - Things do not change in the East. As Abra-ham pitched his tent in Bethel, so does an Arab Sheikh now set up his camp; as David built his palace on Mount Zion, so would a Turkish Pasha now arrange his house; in every street may be seen the hairy children of Estu, squatting on the ground, de-vouring a mess of lentils like that for which the rough hunter sold his birth-right; along every road plod the sons of Rechab, whose fathers, one thou-sand years ago, bound themselves and theirs to drink no wine, plant no tree, enter within no door, and their tree, enter within no door, and their children have kept the eath; at every khan young men sit around the pan of parched corn, dipping their morsel into the dish; Job's plow is still used, and the seed is still trodden into the ground by asses and kine; olives are shaken from the boughs as directed by Isaah; and the grafting of trees is unchanged since the days of Saul. The Syrian house is still, as formerly, only a stone tent, as a temple was but a marble tent. What is seen now in Bethany may be taken as the exact likeness of the house of Lazarus, where Mary listened and Martha toiled, or as the house of Simon, the leper, where the precious box of ointment was broken, and whence Judas set out to betray his master.

By the Provisional Governor of the State of South Caroling.

PROCLAMATION:

WHEREAS His Excellency President Johnson has issued his proclamation, appointing me (Benjamin F. Perry) Provisional Governor in and for the State of South Carolina, with power to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary and proper for convening a Convention of the State, composed of delegates to be chosen by that portion of the people of said State who are leval to the United States, for the purpose of altering or amending the Constitution thereof; and with authority to exercise within the limits of the State all the powers necessary and proper to enable such loyal people to restore said State to its constitutional relations to the Federal Government, and to present such a Republican form of State Government as will entitle the State to the guarantee of the United States therefor, and its people to protection by the United States against invasion, insurrection and domestic violence.

Now, therefore, in obedience to the proclamation of his Excellency Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, I, BENJAMIN F. PEIRIX, Provisional Government in South Carolina, reforming the State Constitution and restoring civil authority in said State under the Constitution and laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim and declare that all civil officers in South Carolina, who were in office when the Civil Government of the State was suspended, in May last, (except those arrested or under prosecution for treason,) shall, on taking the eath of allegiance prescribed in the President's Amnesty Proclaimation of the 25th day of May, 1805, resume the duties of their offices and continue to discharge them under the Provisional Government till further appointments are made.

And I do further proclaim, declare and make known, that it is the day of all loved.

duties of their offices and continue to discharge them under the Provisional Government till further appointments are made.

And I do further proclaim, declare and make known, that it is the duty of all loyal citizens of the State of South Carolina to promptly go forward and take the oath of allegiance to the United States, before some magistrate or military officer of the Federal Government, who may be qualified for administering oaths; and such are hereby authorized to give certified copies thereof to the persons respectively by whom they were made. And such magistrates or officers are hereby required to transmit the originals of such oaths, at as early a day as may be conveffient, to the Department of State, in the city of Washington, D. C.

And I do further proclaim, declare and make known, that the Managers of Elections throughout the State of South Carolina will hold an election for members of a State Convention, at their respective precinets, on the FIRST MONDAY IN SEP.

na will hold an election for members of a State Convention, at their respective precincts, on the FIRST MONDAY IN SEPTEMBER NEXT, according to the laws of South Carolina in force before the secession of the State; and that each Election District in the State shalledeet as many members of the Cenvention as the said District has members of the House of Representatives—the basis of representation being population and taxation. This will give one hundred and twenty-four members to the Convention—a number sufficiently large to represent every portion of the State most fully.

to represent every portion of the State most fully.

Every loyal citizen who has taken the Amnesty oath and not within the deepted classes in the President's Proclamation, will be entitled to vote, provided he was a legal voter under the Constitution as it stood prior to the secession of South Carolina. And all who are within the excepted classes must take the oath and apply for a pardon, in order to entitle them to voto or betome members of the Convention.

The members of the Convention thus elected on the first Monday in September next, are hereby required to convene in the city of Columbia, on WEDNESDAY, the 13th day of September, 1865, for the purpose of altering and amending the present Constitution of South Carolina, or remodelling and making a new one, which will conform to the great changes which have taken place in the State, and be more in accordance with Republican principles and equality of representation.

And I do further, preclaim and make known, that the Constitution and all laws of force in South Carolina prior to the secession of the State, are hereby made of force under the Provisional Government, except wherein they may conflict with the provisions of this proclamation. And the Judges sion of the State, are hereby made of force under the Provisional Government, except wherein they may conflict with the provisions of this proclamation. And the Judges and 'Chancellors of the State are hereby required to exercise all the powers and perform all the duties which apportain to their respective offices, and especially in criminal cases. It will be expected of the Federal military authorities now in South Carolina, to lend, their authority to the civil officers of the Provisional Government, for the purpose of enforcing the laws and preserving the peace and good order of the State.

And I do further command and enjoin all good and lawful citizens of the State to unite in enforcing the laws and bringing to justice all disorderly persons, all plunderers, robbers and marauders, all vagrants and idle persons who are wandering about without employment or any visible means of supporting themselves.

It is also expected that all former owners of freed persons will be kind to them and without employment or any visible means of supporting themselves.

It is also expected that all former owners of freed persons will be kind to them, and not turn off the children or aged to perish; and the freed men and women are earnestly enjoined to make contracts, just and fair, for remaining with their former owner.

In order to facilitate as much as possible the application for pardons under the excepted sections of the President's Amnesty Proclamation, it is stated for information that all applications must be by petition, stating the exception, and accompanied with the oath prescribed. This petition must be first approved by the Provisional Governor, and then forwarded to the President. The headquarters of the Provisional Governor will be at Greenville, where all communications to him must be addressed. The newspapers of this State will publish this proclamation till the election for members of the Convention.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal. Done at the [L. S.] town of Greenville, this 20th day of July, in the year of our Lord, 1865, and of the independence of the United States the ninetieth.
